THE HIKE

The Springfield Hill Segment is a short loop that can be hiked in either direction. From the parking lot, hikers heading northeast on the loop will gradually ascend to the crest of a south-facing slope offering dramatic views to the west. After descending off the ridge the segment intersects (DA39) a short spur trail that leads to a Dispersed Camping Area (DCA) for long-distance, multi-day hikers. The segment descends through beautiful oak savanna and woodlands, then crosses a boardwalk before passing near the remains of Frederic Hahn's log building, dating to the late 19th century. The segment continues along a grassy hillside and passes an agricultural field before arriving back at the parking area.

To reach the Indian Lake Segment, hikers should follow a 2.6-mile connecting route by heading south on Ballweg Road 0.2 miles. At USH-12 turn left and walk east on the gravel shoulder for 0.4 miles. Cross USH-12 at Collins Ridge Road and go south 0.1 miles. At Matz Road turn right and go west and south 0.6 miles to a T-intersection. Turn left and continue to follow Matz Road 1.3 miles east and south to STH-19. Jog right and turn left into Indian Lake County Park.

From its starting point on STH-19 at the Indian Lake County Park eastern entrance the Indian Lake Segment follows the park entrance road to the main parking area. A trail from the parking area leads about 0.5 miles to historic St. Mary of the Oaks Chapel (look for signage behind and to the right of the restrooms).

Indian Lake County Park has 8 miles of ski and hiking trails. The segment overlaps with some of the park's ski trails, which have their own color-coded markings and directional designations, and at times may follow the ski trail in the "wrong" direction. Hikers should follow carefully the Trail's yellow blazes.

From the parking area the segment heads south, soon passing a warming hut/cabin (DA24), with a restroom nearby, that is open during the ski season. Past the cabin the segment climbs up and down steep hills and then briefly follows along the south side of Indian Lake. After crossing a meadow and passing a marsh the segment skirts around a dog exercise area before ending at Indian Lake County Park's dog exercise/lake access parking area on STH-19.
